Atlantic City.

Special Correspondence of The Star.
ATLANTIC CITY, April 15.—Present indications are that Palm Sunday will be an event as great as many former Easter days on the Boardwalk. Special train service has already been invoked to carry the crowds arriving all the week and only weather vagaries will prevent a brilliant showing of the latest quiches in habiliments when the crowd debouches on the Boardwalk at noon tomorrow. Actually every big hotel along the Boardwalk is filled today and even without the final rush of one-day folk tomorrow the resort population will run close to the quarter-million mark in numbers.
Railway men are taking time to the forelock in preparing for the tremendous Easter rush of travel expected next week. Washington will have special trains to and from the resort for practical all the week. The great delight of travelers who desire the service. Hotels are manned to the limit and flights of waiters from southern resorts are coming in to share in the annual Easter harvest.
Plans are about complete for the fashion show to be staged on the Million-Dollar Pier next Saturday and Easter Sunday. The show, which will include children's wear and sport outfits for every occasion. Private shopping for the feminine contingent, who appear to be deeply interested in the coming season, will be held on the pier. The Boardwalk Saturday morning and are assured of a big audience.
The resort is anxious to break all former records for hospitality, and a number of hotels have opened during the week. Among them are the Alhambra, at Virginia and Pacific avenues, managed by J. Purdy Cope; the Monticello, on Kentucky avenue, managed by Mrs. A. C. Eckholm; the Francis, on Michigan avenue, managed by J. F. and M. C. ATLANTIC CITY, April 15.—Present indications are that Palm Sunday will be an event as great as many former Easter days on the Boardwalk. Special train service has already been invoked to carry the crowds arriving all the week and only weather vagaries will prevent a brilliant showing of the latest quiches in habiliments when the crowd debouches on the Boardwalk at noon tomorrow. Actually every big hotel along the Boardwalk is filled today and even without the final rush of one-day folk tomorrow the resort population will run close to the quarter-million mark in numbers.
Railway men are taking time to the forelock in preparing for the tremendous Easter rush of travel expected next week. Washington will have special trains to and from the resort for practical all the week. The great delight of travelers who desire the service. Hotels are manned to the limit and flights of waiters from southern resorts are coming in to share in the annual Easter harvest.
Plans are about complete for the fashion show to be staged on the Million-Dollar Pier next Saturday and Easter Sunday. The show, which will include children's wear and sport outfits for every occasion. Private shopping for the feminine contingent, who appear to be deeply interested in the coming season, will be held on the pier. The Boardwalk Saturday morning and are assured of a big audience.
The resort is anxious to break all former records for hospitality, and a number of hotels have opened during the week. Among them are the Alhambra, at Virginia and Pacific avenues, managed by J. Purdy Cope; the Monticello, on Kentucky avenue, managed by Mrs. A. C. Eckholm; the Francis, on Michigan avenue, managed by J. F. and M. C. Donovan; and the La Belle Inn, on South Carolina avenue, managed by Mrs. Youngblood.
Mrs. A. G. Clapham of Washington is at the Marlborough-Blenheim,
